Course announcement for the Norwegian Defence International Centre (NODEFIC) - Residential Practical and Functional-oriented United Nations Contingent Owned Equipment training (UNCOE-T); 16 - 21 September 2024

1 Background

The activity within international peace operations requests a high level of education and preparation of officers who will take part in United Nations (UN) peace operations. Norwegian Defence International Centre (NODEFIC) has for many years hosted UN logistic courses for staff officers, logistics officers, police officers and civilians.

NODEFIC is responsible, on behalf of all five Nordic countries, for the UN logistic courses. These courses are open for all UN Member States. Traditionally, 30% of the participants are from non-Nordic countries.

NODEFIC is a part of Norwegian Defence University College (NDUC) / Command and Staff College (CSC). NDUC is an internationally accredited education college, and follows the current norms and standards for education and research.

2 Discussion

NDUC / Command and Staff College would like to take this opportunity to encourage qualified students to apply for the 2024 residential practical and functional-oriented UNCOE training. The training will be conducted at Akershus Fortress in the centre of Oslo, Norway.

The training is an advance training and is built up on the participation in our three days online digital training. Applicants that have not participated in our online digital training, need to apply separately for this training.

The next UNCOE three days online digital trainings are scheduled to 21-23 May or 10-12 September 2024.

Please find more information on our website www.nodefic.org

NODEFIC does not charge any Course Fee.

The participant (or the participants unit/country) is responsible for travel costs as well as any other cost that may apply to the course participant during the course. The participant must pay the cost of food and accommodation, currently 150 euro per night directly to the hotel by credit card (cash is not accepted).
